Annual election may include bond issue

By HENRY CANTIN

Romulus School District voters will be asked to approve a school building bond issue in addition to electing school board members in the annual election set for June 14, it was disclosed Monday.

School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy said Monday that he has recommended to the school board that every effort be made by the school board to get the bond proposal on the June 14 ballot.

A public meeting will be held at 8 p.m., April 26, at Romulus Senior High School.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the bond proposal with Romulus citizens and hear their views and suggestions.

"It will be an informational and general discussion session," McConeghy stated.

Approval by the school board is required before an application can be made to State Department of Education and Michigan Municipal Finance Commission on the bond proposal.

The school board has a regular board meeting on April 26. The meeting will start and be concluded in time for the attendance at the public hearing, McConeghy said.

Voters of the school district will be asked to fill two positions on the school board that are expiring this year.

The four-year term of incumbent Gervazie Canejo, 16321 Dodge, Romulus, expires this June. The other is a one-year unexpired term of former school board member William M. Oakley, who resigned to remain a member of Romulus City Council.

The school board appointed Frank Filkins, 6887 Ball, Romulus, to serve on the school board until the end of the current school year. He will have to seek election to remain on the school board.

In a special election held April 5, 1970, voters defeated a proposed school building bond issue of $11,000,000 by nearly a two to one vote. A nine mills renewal was approved.

The defeated huge bond issue, highest in the school district's history due to increased building costs, was to furnish funds, when needed, to erect, furnish and equip new elementary school buildings, re-equipping existing school buildings and acquiring additional school sites, etc.

The amount of the proposed bond issue under present consideration has not as yet been officially determined.

Superintendent McConeghy reported Monday that if and when the bond issue is approved, it will include the same projects that were placed before the voters in April, 1970.

McConeghy also reported that nominating petitions for the school board posts are now available at the school board offices.

Deadline for filing of nominating petitions is May 17 at 4 p.m.

CHECKING - URBAN RENEWAL — Members of the Citizens District Council for Urban Renewal check over the progress of Romulus' Urban Renewal Program initiated in the Wayne-Beverly Rds area. The 25-member council composed of residents in the Urban Renewal

District met last Tuesday to review the application for federal funds on the first phase of the program involving 175 acres. They are (from left) James McCain, secretary; Mrs. D. R. Phenix, president; Mrs. Geraldine Sanders, first vice president; and Stonewall Whitworth, assistant secretary.

NEW SEWER AND STREET CLEANING EQUIPMENT — Romulus officials display the city's recently purchased sewer and street cleaning equipment at the Department of Public Works building. They are (from left) William Pritula, director of DPW; Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael; City Clerk Leonard J.

Folmar and City Treasurer Albert Ginski. The two trucks with underbody scrapers and the sewer water jet cleaner were purchased on sealed bids at a cost of $30,000 to $40,000 reported Pritula. The equipment purchase is the first by Romulus since becoming a city in May, 1970.

Mahalak bill would protect residents of trailer parks

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has introduced legislation which would give persons who live in trailer coach parks the same tenant-landlord rights as those who live in rental homes.

Under the Mahalak bill the owner of a trailer coach park would have to see that the sites are fit for use and that the premises are kept in reasonable repair in line with local health and safety regulations.

"These are rights of persons who lease other types of residential premises," Mahalak pointed out. "They should also be the rights of persons who lease sites for mobile homes. As it is now, persons who live in trailer coach parks have only limited rights under the law."

Mahalak introduced similar legislation in the last session of the legislature. "I will continue my efforts to see this bill enacted into law, he pledged. "There is a definite need for this protection for mobile home residents who live in mobile home parks."

The Mahalak bill has been reported out of the House Committee on Public Health. It is on second reading of bills and in line for final passage.

State Rep. Raymond W. Hood (D-Detroit), chairman of the Public Health Committee said the proposal was thoroughly reviewed by the committee. "This is the type of legislation the committee is interested in," he stated. "We are interested in any legislation which guarantees improved health and safety standards for Michigan citizens. This, of course, includes those who live in mobile home parks."

Mahalak said his bill (House Bill 4351) would modernize the present state trailer coach laws.

He said he was prompted to introduce legislation because of complaints he heard sometime ago at meetings in Flint, Romulus, Belleville, Rawsonville and in Monroe County.

"The complaints, which I felt were justified, centered on the fact that the trailer coach act which went into effect in 1960 is a very broad, loosely-drawn piece of legislation," Mahalak said. "It does not meet the needs of our growing population of mobile home owners."

Mahalak reported he was told by trailer coach park residents that landlords often were reluctant to make promised improvements and that they imposed ever changing rules or regulations on the residents. There were other complaints about maintenance of the sites, he added.

Mahalak stressed that his proposal would not take authority and controls out of the hands of local units of government. "They should still regulate, through their own ordinances, the trailer parks within their governmental boundaries," he said. "The law will be strengthened and not weakened by their position."

City buses meet state standards

The school bus fleet of the Romulus Community School District has successfully passed the school bus inspection program conducted by the Michigan State Police, Robert L. McConeghy, school superintendent, reported Monday.

The 42 school bus fleet has met the high standards set during the 1970-71 inspection year, the superintendent was informed in a communication from the Michigan Department of Education.

The Board of Education was presented with a School Bus Inspection Certificate commending the school district "for having 100 percent of its school buses meeting all the inspection standards prescribed by the Department of State Police and the Department of Education."

A communication from Harold B. Wagner, supervisor school transportation section, school management services, department of education stated:

"Your school district is one of 340 school districts that had every bus in its fleet meet the high standards set during the 1970-71 inspection year. This is a most praiseworthy achievement.

"This year 85.8 percent of Michigan's 11,000 buses passed the annual inspection.

"You and your transportation personnel are to be congratulated for the effort in obtaining safe vehicles for your community's children. We challenge you to repeat the performance in coming years."

Romulus school transportation foreman is John Hadyniak.

Weight Watcher head giving demonstration

Franco Palumbo, executive chief of Weight Watchers International, will conduct free demonstrations at the downtown J.L. Hudson store's 12th Floor auditorium Monday, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; Tuesday from 3 to 4 p.m. at Hudson's Northland Center; from 7 to 8 p.m. and Hudson's Westland Center from 7 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Florine Mark, president of Weight Watchers of Eastern Michigan, Inc. and Weight Watchers of Central Michigan, announced the schedule of Palumbo's tour. "The purpose of the tour and the free demonstrations is to show just how easy it is to maintain a balanced, and sometimes very exotic, menu plan while at the same time losing weight," Mrs. Mark commented.

Palumbo will demonstrate a variety of menu plans and will explain in detail the use of certain foods in the Weight Watchers program. Free copies of recipes and menus will be given to those persons attending the demonstrations.

Palumbo, who lost over 100 pounds himself, is a graduate of the New England Culinary Institute of America and he holds an associate degree in hotel and restaurant management from the university of Massachusetts. In 1969, sporting a size 50 suit on his 5-foot-9-inch frame and weighing in at 265 pounds, he joined a Weight Watchers program and trimmed off 105 pounds in the first year.

"The image of the fat Italian chef which I had nurtured for so many years was gone," Palumbo said. "But, you know, I'm happier, more relaxed now than I've ever been."

Palumbo's culinary artistry has given birth to a whole new spectrum of Weight Watchers "legal" recipes and menus.

Among some of his creations are Sombbrero Rice, Bartlett Amandine Mousse, Tacos, a Red, White and Blue Parfait and his Monte Cristo Crab Sandwich.

Commenting on the Weight Watchers program, Palumbo said, "Any plan that tells me that I can have a sandwich for lunch is fine with me. Just let me loose in the kitchen with my two slices of bread... some fish, pimentos, mushrooms, cucumber, lettuce - give your imagination free rein."

Credit card approved for PCHA bill paying

The BankAmericard can now be used for the payment of any hospital charges incurred at any of the four hospitals operated by the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA).

E.J. Mathia, controller of PCHA, announces that the use of the BankAmericard became officially effective April 14 at Annapolis, Outer Drive, Beyer Memorial and Seaway Hospitals.

"To the best of our knowledge, PCHA hospitals are the first hospitals in the Detroit area to accept credit cards for the payment of hospital charges not covered by insurance," said Mrs. Mathia. "We are very enthusiastic about this new PCHA service because we feel it can be a real convenience to the people who use our hospitals."

"It will not only assist in avoiding financial embarrassment for those who find it necessary to seek emergency treatment because of a sudden illness or accident, but will prove helpful in many other situations," Mathia added.

"For example, your BankAmericard can also be used for the payment of any deposits required on account, or it can be used for the payment of any existing indebtedness to PCHA for prior services. I would also emphasize that persons not presently holding membership in BankAmericard can now make application for membership at either of the four PCHA hospitals."

The board of directors of PCHA approved the negotiated agreement with BankAmericard at a recent meeting. On that occasion it was pointed out by Roger J. Remer, board treasurer, that use of some type of credit card plan had been under study for some time.

"We are going to use this as a pilot program for the next six months and if we are satisfied with the results we may work out similar agreements with other credit card concerns," Remer stated.

Civil service law is sought

The wording for a Civil Service Proposition that is to be presented to Romulus voters in an election scheduled June 14 has been approved by Romulus City Council.

The City Charter of Romulus requires that the city adopt a Civil Service Ordinance and Program for its employees within 18 months of the effective date of the charter.

Voters of Romulus Township approved City Incorporation for the community in a special election held in May, 1970. The civil service program, when in operation, will cover from 50 to 60 city employees.

Councilman William M. Oakley made a motion the Civil Service Ordinance be declared an emergency action so that the proposition could be readied for the June 14 election.

He was supported by Councilman Fred Junior Block. Council's approval was unanimous. The proposition calling for a "for" or "against" vote is as follows:

"Ordinance No. 71-5 adopted by the City Council of the City of Romulus provides for the adoption of a Civil Service Program for all eligible employees of the city as set forth in said program. Shall the City of Romulus adopt such ordinance."

More than 2 million Americans have venereal diseases, says the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Recreation planning prepared for Romulus

A Master Recreational Plan for the City of Romulus has been approved and adopted by City Council.

A formal resolution approving the master plan was unanimously voted at the April 15 council meeting.

The presentation of the plan to council members was made by DuWayne Martin, head of Romulus Recreation Commission, which directed the proposed plans and programs detailed in the master plan, and a representative of Parkins, Rogers & Associates Inc., of Detroit, planning consultants retained by the city to draft the plan.

The preparation of the master recreation plan and its final approved by council was mandatory requirement in the city's application for financial assistance under Act 108, Public Acts of 1969.

The City of Romulus is eligible for funds in excess of $72,000 under the Michigan bond program for recreation.

Eighty percent is paid by the state for proposed recreation parks and programs and 20 percent by the city, if the city's application for state funds is approved.

The sum of $58,330 has been earmarked for the city, the council was told.

City Council ordered that the master recreation plan be submitted to the Department of National Resources in conjunction with the city's application for the recreational grant from the state.

Ordinance enforcers demand compliance

A community-wide campaign for strict enforcement of Romulus' codes and ordinances initiated March 15 has resulted so far in the issuance of 100 orders to property owners to comply.

Building Inspector Jack Cant reported Monday. In addition to the compliance orders, 35 warning notices that court action will be taken if the violations were not corrected were issued during the period.

Cant, along with Building Inspectors Earl Jeffries and Owen Richardson who are all deputized as City Ordinance Officers issued the compliance and warning notices.

Property owners are given one week to 30 days to comply with the city's codes and ordinances depending on the violation discovered and the time it takes to make proper corrections.

The city council, on recommendation of Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, has created a three member Ordinance Review Board.

The board will hear appeals of citizens who have received violation warning notices.

The board at its discretion may permit extensions of time for correction of the violation in cases of hardship, or where good cause is shown and in situations where it is warranted, or recommend a dismissal of the warning notice.

Band Week

Romulus City Council has approved a request made by the Romulus Band Boosters Club and declared the week of May 3 to May 9 as Band Week in the City of Romulus.

Use common sense to halt grass fires

Spring has sprung: Grass has riz Where last year's Grass fires is! That may be a bad attempt to paraphrase an old jingle, but the thought is still there. Grass fires continue to raise havoc in the area.

As was listed in a recent page one story in The Daily eagle, grass fires have been getting fewer in number in the last few years in most Western Wayne County communities, with the thanks probably due to municipal ordinances forbidding open burning. For this, we are happy.

However, even more can be done to prevent such fires during this tinder dry time of year.

Accidents, such as the 15-mile long blaze caused by a passing freight train along the tracks from Inkster to Canton Township last week, will happen. Fortunately, that fire - despite its frightening length - didn't cause much damage.

Part of that also was due to the special efforts of Al Quint, a Wayne County Road Commission employee from Garden City who used a hand extinguisher to keep the fire from reaching some drums of fuel oil in the road commission yard off Howe Rd. in Wayne. Quint, of 29894 Cambridge St., is shown at work in our "Profiles in photography" feature at the right.

What can be done is the use of common sense when burning something, where burning is legal, making sure a proper container is used and placed in an area clear of inflammable material. If necessary, the immediate surrounding area could be wet down with a garden hose.

Extra care should be taken where open burning is still allowed. Such measures could include having handy a hose and shovel to put out any sparks that may fly off.

Again last week, we witnessed a man having to stand by sheepishly as the fire department had to put out a small blaze in a wooded area across from his home, the blaze having been caused by sparks from his mound of burning leaves on his side of the roadway.

We wouldn't have blamed the fireman the least bit if, once he extinguished the blaze, he had aimed his hose across the road and doused the leaf fire too.

To quote another person we know who inadvertently caused a five-acre grass fire a couple of years ago, "You feel kind of stupid standing there watching the firemen put out a fire caused by your blunder."

Reminding children of fire dangers is another preventive measure. Some fire officials believe that juveniles, not open burning, are the major cause of grass fires.

It's an annual problem that can be coped with best with preventive measures and, most of all, common sense.

Speaking of schools

Band efforts pay off

No matter which elementary school you happen to visit, you're liable to bump into Al Falatine and Ted Harley. Van Buren School System's Elementary Band and Strings teachers.

Meeting classes at four different schools a day, they cover a lot of ground and see many of this area's students each week.

Anyone who's heard Al Falatine's top-notch bands in concert over the past ten years knows that all that mileage isn't in vain.

"Working with these children is exciting and demanding because, among other things, at this age they are the most flexible and their development is dramatic," Falatine says.

Harley adds, "It's very important, especially in teaching the stringed instruments, to start as early as possible, both for building sensitive tonal discrimination and hand-to-hand motor coordination, and as another link in the gradual process of presenting music as an expressive form from all at every age."

Students from all nine elementary schools including the newly-opened North Junior High Annex take part in the instrumental program, beginning in the fourth grade and continuing through the sixth.

There are about 160 students enrolled in the Beginners' Band and 35 in Beginning Strings. There are 200 in advanced fifth and sixth grade Band, 45 in Advanced Strings.

The classes meet for forty minutes, twice a week, at eight different school locations. "We try to make it possible for any child to experience mastering a musical instrument, hopefully a Violin, Viola, Cello or Bass," mentions our not-so-impartial Violin instructor, Harley. Of course, all the Woodwinds, Brass, and Percussion are always taught in all Band classes.

The high quality of our Junior and Senior High School bands and orchestras is in large part attributable to the start they receive years earlier in the elementary schools.

By TED HARLEY
BAND DIRECTOR
VAN BUREN SCHOOLS

Although the high school performances and concerts are the high point of the total Van Buren music picture, performance isn't overlooked at the elementary level. "This May we are looking forward to holding two concerts at the new high school auditorium," says Falatine. At these concerts all of the elementary students will take part.

In addition, a group of the top students specially selected from throughout the system will perform in the honorsband, comprised of about fifty members, and the thirty-member honors orchestra. Meeting weekly at night, the Honors Band is also busily preparing their part of the Picnic Pops Concert, to be given this spring by the Belleville bands, Senior High through Elementary. This will be a real old-fashioned in-the-park band concert.

The students in our instrumental programs are undertaking a discipline which can become with work, a life-long interest. So, if anyone asks you how to get to the High School Auditorium this spring, just tell him: "Practice!"

My Lai reaction irks Westland resident

To the editor:

Needless to say, the My Lai incident would not have occurred if the United States had not intervened in the Vietnam War. Many people, mostly young, began protesting by burning draft cards, demonstrating, etc.

This intervention is a direct violation of the agreement of the Geneva Conference of 1954. But, many of these same protesters feel as do many non-protesters that Lieutenant Calley should be freed for his conduct at My Lai.

Attempts are even being made to capitalize on it. I was really appalled to see an advertisement in the Sunday Detroit News selling "Free Calley" sweat shirts for $4 each. I never thought that the Detroit News would ever be that hard-up for advertising to put such an ad in no less than the first section of its Sunday paper.

They are trying to build a hero in the Massacre Hall of Fame. If the victims of such a massacre were Americans, then it would have been one of the worst atrocities in history. Turnabout is fair play, or is it?

I really do not understand these people who are making every effort to free Lieutenant Calley. He will never be free of his own conscience.

What an image we are building of ourselves as Americans. "The land of the free, and the home of the brave?"

Reader is disgusted with current events

To the editor:

I wonder if the general public has been paying any attention to the happenings in the news of late?

Mayor Gribbs of Detroit and Judge Lincoln want to disarm the legal handgun owners and let the criminals take over.

We have a jury in California turn loose David Poindexter, who for eight weeks ran all over the country and still didn't know Angela Davis was a fugitive from justice. I guess she forgot to tell him?

The State Liquor Commission has thrown down the gauntlet to the private clubs concerning their charters and who they exclude from their membership.

The ammunition-hand loader is awaiting the word from on high, meaning Attorney General Kelley's office and whether black and smokeless powder was meant to be included in a recent law concerning sale of explosives. (They were not meant to be included).

Our State Representative turns his back on the views of his constituents and votes for the 18 year vote, Edward Mahalak by name.

Now we have Urban Renewal in our midst, would anyone care to wager that it won't turn out to be a Pandora's box.

It looks to me like the Liberals have us on the run unless we get our backs up and let these pundits know we can remove them from office a lot easier than they got in.

It seems to be a little pessimistic perhaps it's because I have seen very little lately to be optimistic about. I wonder if sulphur and molasses would help?

County officer thanked for life-saving action

To the editor:

The family of James A. Tillotson wishes to thank Patrolman Lawrence Waetjen of the Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol for the quick and knowing way he helped our loved one on Good Friday Morning.

He not only saved a life, but he was concerned about the children left at home when I left in the ambulance with my husband for the hospital.

We are most thankful for our wonderful police force and only wish more people would show as much love and care for their fellow-men.

New weapon okayed for drug abuse fight

Two more house bills received senate approval. One of them would provide for a promising new weapon in the fight against drug abuse. It permits local communities to contract for drug abuse programs. In doing so, it gives local units of government new authority and powers to fight community drug problems.

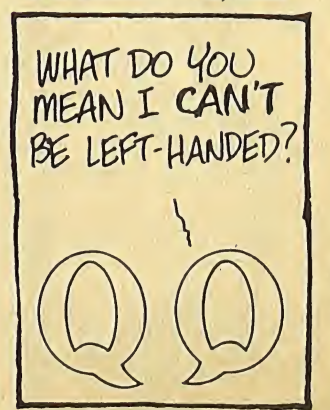

The other bill permits the right of disclaimer (refusal to accept an interest in an estate) by an heir.

Meanwhile, the house gave its approval to a senate-passed proposal which gives savings and loan associations trustee powers in payments to third parties.

Several house bills have been sent over to the Senate for consideration. One of them would permit the investment of public employee retirement funds in the Asian Development Bank. There was strong opposition to this bill. It passed 57 to 47. It takes 56 votes to pass a bill in the house.

There was no opposition to another house bill which would provide for shared costs

At U-D's Theatre 113

'The Beauty Part' is a bit much

The University of Detroit Department for Performing Arts presents "The Beauty Part," a farce in two acts by S.J. Perelman directed by H.E. Thrasher, costumes by Nancy Missimi, sets by Michael Huesman and Thrasher, lighting by Marsha Hardy. At Theatre 113 through Sunday with the following cast: Stephen Guntli, Dominic Kline, Marc McCulloch, James Stahl, Mary Boyer, Mary Aufman, Kathleen Korym, Kathleen Vance, David Hartmann, Joseph Rutherford, Michael Walczak, Michael Sparough, Cathy Blaser, Tom Nedeau. Orchestra: Greg Menke, Charles Neville, Huseman.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

When things on a stage become a bit much, there are assorted diversions one can engage in such as counting the number of letter "q's" in the program or attempting to estimate the number of lights needed to illuminate the stage. Far more diverting than this, however, is playing the game of visualizing the production in assorted styles, much as Sid Caesar would parody a film by playing the same scene various ways.

In the case of S.J. Perelman's outrageous farce, "The Beauty Part," which concludes the University of Detroit's Theatre 113 for the season, one might imagine a company from La Mama beating it into insensibility, or the Royal Shakespearean Company from London freezing it into immobility. Or one can watch H.E. Thrasher, who directed the onslaught, caricaturizing what is already a caricature until there is not too much remotely human left.

Since this has undoubtedly been U-D's finest year, they are certainly entitled to one "Beauty Part," in which a young hero—a Frank Meriwell as played by Alfred E. Neuman if you will—set forth to conquer the arts "on his own." Since, "on his own" or not, his father is one of the wealthiest men in America, Lance Weatherwax meets with a remarkably good reception.

To understand this production you must realize that Thrasher is not content with one Groucho Marx but two. One, complete with frock coat, jet black brows and mustache and cigar, is Milo Leotard Allardye Duplessis Weatherwax, Lance's father. The other, along with Harpoesque and Chicoesque types, are in the orchestra. This may have meant that the Marx brothers could have rendered the evening's farrago meaningful.

When it comes to creating types, Perelman, admittedly is a master. There is elson Smedley, a senile right-wing soda king who would like to pose on a bana split; Hyacinth Beddoes Lafloof, a domineering sadistic publisher of horror magazines; Roy Roy Fruitwell, a sensuous actor; Harry Hubris, a blatant Hollywood producer; Grace Fingerhead, a pre-bellum southern-type authoress of an 1,100 page Civil War novel as seen through the eyes of a New Orleans prostitute; and April Monkhood, Goddard Quagmeyer, Chenille Schreiber, Vernon Equinox, Rowena Inchcape, Sherry Quickline and Judge Herman J. Rinderbrust.

What they do should not be described. Suffice it to say that Thrasher devotes a lot of energy to having them do it and Nancy Missimi's costumes are gorgeous. Dominic Kline handles his cardboard here well; other good caricatures include Stephen Guntli's Hyacinth; Mary Aufman's wonderful Smedley; James Stahl's Roy Roy; Mary Boyer's April; and Marc McCulloch's Rinderbrust.

And Walter Kempski, who has again decorated the lobby ingeniously, is making U-D the only theatre as interesting outside as inside.

OPENING TOMORROW — Gladys Knight and the Pips. Motown recording stars, will open a nine-day engagement at Lofy's Pavilion Room in Plymouth, tomorrow night.

'Gladys Knight and the Pips' open at Lofy's

Gladys Knight and the Pips, opening tomorrow at Lofy's Pavilion Room, have gone up the show business ladder since joining the Motown Record Company just five years ago.

Their uncle, "Pip", was instrumental in encouraging the little group on to bigger and better things and when they actually organized, it was as Gladys Knight and the Pips.

Originally hailing from Atlanta, Ga., Gladys and her brother, Merald Knight, and two cousins sang at the Mt. Moriah Church. From there they went on to amateur shows.

Also providing entertainment at Lofy's will be the Johnny Trudell orchestra, which plays for dancing before shows and backs the current acts.

opportunity to meet others. A free champagne press reception early in the evening will kick off the program as guests will have the chance to mingle with Detroit newspaper and radio personalities who will serve as judges for the "Miss Michigan Universe Pageant" beginning at 8 p.m.

Detroit's young moderns, singles and party-goers will be able to enjoy dancing to two bands - a rock band in the Upper Deck and a more sophisticated sound in the Lower Deck, scene of the pageant - while having the HAROLD WIGGLE'S 24-KARAT CLUB, at 16890 Telegraph is still packing 'em in with the prettiest, wittiest, curvaceous-est Screwball in the world: Miss Jerri Cox!! Supported by Frederick & Marlena, whose dancing is poetry in motion. Harry Harris-if you've EVER been entertained, you know his name-the Joe Vitale Quartet, AND one of the most enthusiastic Audiences this side of Broadway, Jerri stands up and knocks you out with one wild, zany laugh after another! Internal Revenue had just taken the joy out of this poor Writer's life the night we stopped by The 24-K and Miss Jerri brought it right back again. No smoke, you COULDN'T buy this kind fun with a million bucks, a-f-t-e-r taxes! Your favorite Cocktail, Hors D'Oeuvres Royale, a meal that'll bring you back MANY times. Dancing from Monday night straight through...and if you think THAT'S great: enjoy JERRI COX right now, and come back for Cathy Johnson & Bob Monty next week. Vegas never had it this good! Reservations if you wish: 538-4455. You'll find yourself reserving for next week before you leave. It's an honest-to-goodness 24 Karat spot!

H-O-W "MIKE'S" GOT THE NAME? Well, I'm not s-u-r-e, but one version izazz follows: She was peeved and called him Mr...Not because he went and Kr...But the thing that made her sore...was that on the night before...this same Mr. Kr. Sr!! Like I say, I'm not sure. But of Cap was there on the night before...when he Kr. Sr...and it was only because she had awarded him her personal "Happiest-Spot-in-Westland-and-Greatest-Food-of-the-month" badge. Anyhow, people still call "MR." MIKE'S...and it's still at 35223 FORD RD., corner of Wayne Rd., and it STILL merits the Happiest-spot-and-swingiest-food & Libation award...but now it's even better! Yer. Thursday-Friday-Saturday Music is by Jan & Ron. It's Folk Music, old Standards, VERY good Music. And on Sunday, Jerry Valasco takes over with a Guitar that makes you feel so comfy it does everything but come down and rub your back! And the rest of the week the food is just as great as ever...and you can get a long cool refresher...and Mike won't tell if you Kr!! Oh, no! Your Sister's name is MARGIE??

IF ALL THE TRAP DRUMS in the world were placed end-to-end...the world would be extremely soothing. Right? But they're not...and the world isn't...u-n-t-i-l: you get to THE DANISH INN, AT 32305 GRAND RIVER!! Suddenly, the world IS outside...and life IS extremely soothing. There are soft voices and soft lights and soft, soft, sweet Music. If it's Tuesday through Saturday, Pat Flowers is at the Keyboard where he was born...and where he holds court by virtue of a style is a little New Orleans, a little Fats Waller...a little far out Mod, urbane, relaxed, Cafe Society...a trip! Dick and Barbara Benek are around to greet and seat you...to feed you things like "Viking Sword" (marinated beef, green peppers, onion tomatoes, Mushroom and Rice Pilaf, served on a flaming platter!) OR Dansk Hakke Bof, which starts out Sirlion and ends up pure heaven! The Danish call Heaven "Valhalla"...and Dick Benek invites you to visit it just west of Orchard Lake Rd., in Farmington.

AND THEN THERE ARE THOSE places where you have that stark choice of din-with-your-Dinner, or rest-with-your-Restaurant. Us, we found an in-between that gives us a great meal, makes us feel like sittin' up and taking part of what's happening...and we've never heard ennuybuddy call it "din"...when they're ALL Singing along at THE SEVEN SEAS SINGALONG!! Out Michigan Ave. to Ypsi... (it's at 1435 E. MICHIGAN) we go...and the rest of the clock-eyed world can sit home and wonder what's doing in the great-out-there...while we're enjoying ample parking...immediate seating...a SUPERB Menu...and a toe-tapper name DEE GREENFIELD, formerly with the swingin' singin' "Moe Sisters"...and n-o-w (RIGHT now) doin' things with the Organ that make you feel glad you're alive. They hand you a Singalong Book...and pretty soon someone asks for a favorite number. That's it. You don't just listen...no matter what you think you're gonna DO. You sing. First with the crowd. Then suddenly...by yourself! And wild things begin 'happening'. The Waitress does something like a limbo while she takes a turn at the mike. The couple next to you buys the next round. Some misbegotten soul may even get up on a table and do a jig. (I try not to mention that, but it preys on my mind.) And you know you'll be back every chance you get. And you know it's NOT just "one of those places." And Cap Patric is there...waiting to be identified...and to treat you to that Steak Sandwich! Y'all come!

O-R, IF YOU'RE WONDERIN' where to go EVERY hour of the day...EVERY day of the year...for EVERY good tastin' yummy you ever imagined: Consider VICTOR'S at 34410 Ford Rd., in Westland. Vic Raviolo was in Industrial Catering for a number of years before he decided to just stop right here and give people what they want! His Wife, Betty, knew the location would be right. Her folks owned "Betty's Party Store", just down the street, for years. Son Mike, age 2 1/2, knew Daddy could 'sure cook', and his recommendation was sincere...so, off it began! Victor now has people agreeing with the Family...by the dish 'n spoonful! The City of Westland maintains an account at Victor's...The Employees of Westland come in numbers to praise the edibles...to relax in the pleasant atmosphere...to take advantage of ample parking (almost non-existent in many Restaurant areas, now)...and Victor, who was 30 years old last week, plans to celebrate his 100TH Birthday keeping people well-fed and happy! Therefore...Every hour...Every day...Every good tastin' yummy...is where Victor's comes in!

Youngsters earn trip to Chicago

Every Sunday morning the "Pink Panther" bus rumbles through Romulus collecting boys and girls for Sunday School at the Gilead Baptist Church in Allen Park.

Last Friday morning 43 of the Panthers regular passengers chartered a Greyhound for a two day sight-seeing trip to Chicago.

The idea for the trip developed after Fouad Berry, Romulus resident who is in charge of the two Romulus runs, had taken his own family to Chicago's Museum of Science and Natural History.

"It's tremendous" he said. "They have a farm, a coal mine and a human heart that's big enough to walk through."

Berry decided that his bus passengers had to see it too. The church's pastor, Rev. Jack Downs, gave permission and the planning began. When the group left on Friday, they had prepared an ambitious itinerary that included the Adler Planetarium, top of the John Hancock Building, Sheed Aquarium and Field Museum of Natural History.

The youngsters earned all or part of the $25 the trip cost by doing odd jobs.

Education Act meeting scheduled in Romulus

A meeting tonight (Wednesday) at the Romulus Senior High School will feature Dr. Ralph Steffek, director of field services for Eastern Michigan University.

The resignations were made necessary by the transfers of both association officers by their company. The transfers were to Minneapolis.

The post of president has been filled by former vice president Rick Schroeder of 46755 Willow Run Expressway, Van Buren Township.

At the next board of directors session, action will be taken to fill the secretary's post.

Mom suddenly realizes that getting from one place to another isn't as easy as it used to be.

Youngsters grow up and find that walking is fine, but having the use of a car on weekends is better!

When this transition takes place in your family, remember that once you've selected a second car, we're just a phone call away from providing your dealer or you with the money necessary to clinch the deal.

Call 388-0300, and watch how fast we react. When you're responsible for more used and second car loans in the Downriver area than anyone else, moving quickly becomes a habit.

Motion carried unanimously.

The band director addressed board explaining purpose of the trip, time involved and itinerary, accommodations, etc. 65 students enrolled in the band, and 55 have parental permission to make trip, which will take place between June 2 and June 6.

Some discussion regarding fact that all plans were made, parental permission obtained, children enthused, etc., before proposed trip was presented to administration or board.

Motion by Draper, supported by Filkins, to approve trip as proposed. Motion carried unanimously.

Dr. Wells, Planning Consultant, WCISD:

Dr. Wells discussed with the board the projections for student enrollment during the next five years; building needs to house additional students; bond issue needs; cost to community; time schedule. It was pointed out that should voters pass on bond issue, a new elementary school could not be ready for occupancy before 1973-74 school year. Projections for elementary enrollment for 1971-72 are 3,886 students, which is over capacity. Board thanked Dr. Wells for his informative presentation.

The superintendent was directed to investigate talent show and report results of investigation to board.

It was unanimously agreed act in question was in bad taste.

Dance part of act came as a complete surprise to all. Talent show itself was good.

This particular act was not previewed or auditioned ahead of time.

Teachers involved had volunteered their services and should not be held responsible.

There was too much responsibility placed on shoulders of 15 and 16 year old students.

There was not sufficient supervision.

The superintendent reported that the name of Ralph F. Gilden, Dean of Admissions, EMU, has been submitted as a possible Commencement Speaker.

Member Lovette suggested we contact Mr. Gilden immediately by phone and if he is not available, apply to Speaker's Bureau at MSU. Affirmed by consensus.

Recommendation for a Third Grade teacher at Merriman; position created by growth.

Motion by Canejo, supported by Christensen, to offer Mrs. Clara D. James a contract for balance of the school year. Motion carried unanimously.

Report on REA Action against district teacher and procedure involved. Consensus that letter from administration be sent to teacher in question.

There are several areas of concern with regard to security at the High School, 1) outside the building and parking lots, 2) security inside the building. Suggested that lay people be involved with patrolling the corridors, lavatories, etc.

At present all of the administrative offices are in one section of the building without a great deal of exposure to the student body.

It is suggested that board consider decentralization of administrative offices by use of partitions in order to place one office unit in northwest corner of building; and another in area of library.

Investigation of Guard Services which will furnish uniformed patrol guards for parking lots at $3.75 per hour. Suggested that board authorize hiring of one uniformed guard for day patrol, and have same service available on a call-basis to high school principal and athletic director for special events.

High School administration has now received its parking stickers. All authorized vehicles will have stickers and unauthorized vehicles will be easily identified.

It was the consensus that quotations be secured; the school attorney contacted regarding legal liability; and a further report of findings submitted to board.

Problem Solving: Individuals and Groups:

This item was discussed at Special Meeting called for March 1, and it is suggested that those people with problems follow the procedure now in effect, but which has been by-passed, especially during this particular school year.

If solution to problem is sought at level at which problem initiated, a good deal of public frustration will be avoided: step-bystep procedure for solution of problems or grievances, plus written form for requesting placement on board agendas submitted.

Merriman and Harrison areas are filled necessitating changes in boundaries for attendance areas in order to utilize classrooms at Gordonier and Romulus E.I.

Cafeteria report for the Month of January submitted. Bus Discipline Policy:

Updated Bus Discipline Policy submitted for board approval.

It was suggested that the entire bus policy be well publicized.

Motion by Budd, supported by Filkins, adopting 1971 amendments to 1962 Bus Discipline Policy. Motion carried unanimously.

The Director of M & O submitted recommendation for purchase of 9-passenger Station Wagon to transport physically handicapped boys and girls to schools downriver.

Motion by Budd, supported by Canejo, authorizing purchase as recommended. Motion carried unanimously.

The Director of M & O requested authorization to secure quotations on

- 1) Bus road service vehicle
- 2) Dump truck for the Maintenance Dept.
- 3) Utility Truck for Maintenance Dept.

Items 1 and 2 would replace two dump trucks now in service which are 22 and 20 years old, respectively.

Motion by Draper, supported by Christensen, authorizing Director of M & O to secure quotations on vehicles in question. Motion carried unanimously.

Member Filkins submitted a letter from his employer, Detroit Edison Company, which requests that Mr. Filkins abstain from voting on any contract between board and Detroit Edison.

A member of the audience commented on the investigation conducted by the superintendent relative to the Sophomore Talent Show.

Discussion of conversations which allegedly took place after the High School Drug Seminar. Suggested that if group wished to go into detail it should be done in Executive Session. Group requested Executive Session with Board immediately following adjournment.

Some discussion regarding cost of a new bond issue, and whether it would be necessary to also vote additional mills for operation.

The superintendent explained that he felt, due to increased valuation of school district, additional millage would not be necessary, but only renewal mills for operational purposes.

The board convened in Executive Session at 10:45 p.m. Mr. Draper was excused from Executive Session at 11:59 p.m.

The board reconvened in General Session at 12:06 a.m. with Mr. Draper absent.

Motion by Budd, supported by Lovette, that meeting be adjourned. Motion carried unanimously.

The meeting adjourned at 12:07 a.m.

Special Meeting of the Board of Education held on March 22, was called to order by President Morris at 7:30 p.m.

Roll call showed Member Draper absent. Messrs. McConeghy, Jakad and Janack were present.

Letter received March 19 from Mr. Robert D. Plank requesting executive session meeting with board. Meeting close of general session with Mr. Plank and group of six or eight.

Letter dated March 19 from Wayne County Intermediate School District re Drug Abuse Education Training Conference, requesting Romulus send a leadership team. Superintendent explained this is being processed; at present time tentative group will include an elementary principal, a secondary principal, two or three teachers, two or three citizens and school nurse.

Letter received March 22nd from Mrs. Mickie Lopota requesting use of Texas School as a Teen Center. Explained that this building is now being used for storage and there is a 99 per cent chance that it will be used for classrooms next fall.

Spring Goodwill time

Spring cleaning and income taxes seem to arrive about the same time each year. It's also a good time to think of helping the handicapped at the Goodwill Industries division of League For The Handicapped—Goodwill Industries, says Russell G. Albrecht, executive director. During the winter months collections of materials are usually well below the amount necessary to provide full employment and training opportunities for the men and women in the Goodwill rehabilitation program.

Weather conditions this past winter were especially severe, and as a consequence of the reduced supply of materials, most of the Goodwill program has operated on a short-hour work week since the first of the year. Spring cleaning season makes it possible to replenish the stock of usable discards.

"We are especially in need of clothing, wood furniture and small appliances", Albrecht said. "We do want to stress the words usable and repairable, though, as items which cannot be repaired or used actually create a hardship for us".

Most items needed at Goodwill may be deposited in one of the more than 100 collection centers located on neighborhood shopping centers and supermarket parking lots.

There are certain tax advantages, too, for the contributor of above average materials. Such gifts may be claimed as charitable deductions on your income tax statement.

Goodwill Industries is a division of the United Rehabilitation Centers of League For The Handicapped—Goodwill Industries.

The combined agencies annually serve some 5,000 handicapped clients each year. League-Goodwill is a Torch Drive Service.

Romulus students find Spain trip fascinating

By BEVERLY McANALLY

A trip to Spain during the Easter holidays gave eleven Romulus High School students experiences that one girl described as "fantabulous!"

That was the term used by Debbie Kubiak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kubiak of Cherry St., when she expressed her over-all feeling about the venture.

Mrs. Rosemary Dooley, Spanish teacher at the high school, was spending her Easter vacation on an international junket with Romulus students for the second year, having gone to Mexico City last spring.

"The main thing I wanted to do was to introduce them to another culture," she said. "And they got to use some of what they've learned."

A side trip to Toledo impressed Shirley Lamberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Lamberson of Porter St.

"Toledo is a very old city about 45 miles from Madrid," she explained. "It had a lot of statues and a very old church that had a lot of paintings. We went further up into the mountains and you could see the whole city."

Shirley thinks she would like to make the trip again. "My mother and dad would like to go too."

"It was wonderful, a real experience," said Debbie Papin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Papin of Castle Dr. Debbie had appreciation for the friendliness of the people and the artistic quality of the city of Madrid.

"It's big, but it's also quaint and old," she said. Debbie, who will soon be 15 years old, enjoyed the feeling of being on her own, "but I did get homesick for Romulus," she admitted.

Miss Kubiak was surprised to see how clean the city of Madrid was kept. "They scrub the streets with soap and water." She also recalled the many fountains, the bull fight and the flamenco dancers.

It was the old things of Spain that impressed 14-year old Sheryl Persondek, of Ecorse Rd. "It was the country itself, how they kept their old buildings and how proud they were of them."

Sheryl emphasized that it was the people who had insisted that the city of Toledo remain untouched. "They wouldn't let them do anything modern to it."

The students noted that most of the people lived in apartment buildings rather than individual houses, but that they referred to them affectionately as their "homes".

Another striking difference was the educational system that had the boys all in one school and the girls in another. That children were allowed to drink wine openly amazed the Americans. They all remarked about the friendliness of the people, not only to tourists, they said, but also among one another.

The time divisions of the Spanish day amazed the Romulus travelers. "Classes began at 8 a.m. and lasted until 12:30 p.m. Then everything closed down and all the people went home to lunch and stayed all afternoon coming back to school or work or whatever at about 5:30 p.m. Things closed up again at 8 p.m. with supper at 10 or 11 p.m."

Drug conference scheduled

Teams of educators, youths, and parents from school districts in western Wayne and Monroe Counties will be attending a Michigan Drug Education Training Conference at Madonna College in Livonia on April 22 and 23.

The conference is part of the drug education training program of the U.S. Office of Education and the Michigan Department of Education.

DARTE (Drug Abuse Reduction Through Education), a program of the Wayne County Intermediate School District, is coordinating the conference.

Many local school districts in Wayne and Monroe Counties have formed leadership teams to participate in the Conference. A variety of optional activities and sessions will be available to participants. Resource people from school drug education programs, community programs, hot lines, crisis centers, counseling programs, and youth programs will be present to talk with school district leadership teams.

On Thursday morning, April 22, participants will hear Dr. Allan Y. Cohen speak on "Drugs: The School's Response." Dr. Cohen is co-author with Peter Marin of "Understanding Drug Use: An Adult's Guide to Drugs and the Young" published this year by Harper & Row. He is a 1966 graduate of Harvard College.

Montgomery County, Maryland, will talk on "Drugs and Values". Value clarifying techniques will be demonstrated with groups of students from Livonia schools.

Davis is currently working on his doctorate at the University of Maryland, and has run workshops throughout the state of Maryland to train teams of teachers from all educational districts in using values clarification techniques in the area of drugs and values.

He has presented and demonstrated these ideas on educational television and has described them in a teaching manual.

On Thursday, April 23, Davis will be conducting clinic sessions on using and developing value clarifying techniques—for elementary teachers in the morning and secondary teachers in the afternoon.

On the 23rd, there will also be opportunities for teams from each local school district to begin to grapple with the process of working with the ideas they have heard to develop an Action Plan in drug education for their local school districts.

His close work with Professors Timothy Leary and Richard Alpert involved him in early research on psychedelic drugs. He does not accept the use of drugs as a means of achieving personal growth.

Cohen has served as a psychologist at the Counseling Center of the University of California, Berkeley, and now teaches psychology and serves as Dean of Students at the John F. Kennedy University in Martinez, California.

In the April 22 afternoon session, Richard Davis, principal of English Manor Elementary School, Funding is topic of Romulus meet

State and Federal Funding will be the topic of a meeting scheduled for tonight (Wednesday) at the Romulus Senior High School cafeteria, announced Mrs. Lorena Burton, State and Federal Coordinator.

She explained that the meeting would feature Dr. Ralph Steffek, head of Field Services from Eastern Michigan University, who will explain the guidelines for compensatory programs, using visual aids to illustrate his presentation.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. and will explain how school districts qualify for state and federally funded programs.

"This will be an opportunity to really find out how a district becomes eligible to qualify for funds," Mrs. Burton stated.

She encouraged citizens, administrators and staff people who have interest in funded programs to attend the meeting.

Each purchaser of a bin will be required to certify that the bin will be used in connection with the storage or handling of agricultural commodities or, if purchased by a nonprofit agency or organization, an authorized official must certify the bin will be used for the purpose of such agency or organization, Smith stated.

Farmers may finance the purchase of these bins through the Farm Storage Facility Loan Program provided they meet eligibility requirements; however, the prospective purchaser must bring a memorandum from his home county ASCS office so stating his eligibility, Smith advised.

Additional auction sales of Government-owned grain bins will be announced in the near future, he said.

Conservationists voice lake pollution protest

Roger A. Bly 11929 Ryznar Dr., Belleville and member of the Huron Valley Conservation Association, has directed a letter to Governor William Milliken, Congressman William D. Ford and other representatives reporting the association's opposition to practices of Great Lakes Freighters that contribute to the pollution of Lake Erie.

In speaking for the association, Bly said: "At a time in our lives when ecology and preservation of our environment is of utmost importance to us all, we feel the following matter deserves our attention and hopefully yours.

During the winter months all Great Lakes freighters, and some sea going freighters, while in winter dockage, use certain methods to prevent the pipes in these ships from freezing.

"The most common method is to fill all ship board pipes with a heavy grade of oil known as 'Sea cock filler' for this use. Approximately 500 to 600 gallons are used in each ship. At fit out time in the spring, this filler is discharged directly into the surrounding water of these ships. Because most of these freighters are wintered in the Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Buffalo area, tens of thousands of gallons of this oil is dumped directly into the already dying Lake Erie.

"Coast Guard regulations require that all ships while in winter dockage have electrical power. Therefore a method could be derived using electrical pipe heaters for this purpose of some other alternate method. If federal regulations or state laws, prohibiting the use of discharge of 'sea cock filler' now exist, we ask support in enforcing these laws. If, upon your investigation, no such resolutions exist, we are willing to aid in any way possible the enactment of legislation.

Supply problem hits elevators

The natural gas supply problem hit Michigan crop drying and storage facilities last November. And it may further disrupt normal crop marketing this fall, reports Robert LaPrad, elevator industry specialist at Michigan State University.

Consumers Power Company are restricted to gas usage rates for July 1, 1969 through June, 1970. This restriction was effective No. 1, 1970.

"Restricting natural gas supplies for crop drying may cause increased crop losses," says LaPrad.

AIR-CONDITIONED AND FULLY CARPETED, Town-Homes at Liberty Square have a total move-in cost of as little as $800. The two, three and four bedroom Town-Homes, which also feature landscaping and freedom from outside maintenance, sell for $19,400 to $22,100. Town-Homes are sold individually, not as condominiums or co-operatives. Liberty Square is a Republic Development Corporation community.

Town-Home is unique buy

It's now possible to buy a fully air-conditioned and carpeted new home in the metropolitan area without having a large downpayment or a big income.

Just $600 in move-in costs buys a two or three bedroom, $19,400 Town-Home in Liberty Square. $700 is all that is needed to move into a four bedroom, $22,100 Town-Home.

The new community is located on a 27-acre site west of Metropolitan Airport at Rawsonville and Grove Rds.

Liberty Square will have a total of 151 Town-Homes when completed this year. Town-Homes are available now for immediate occupancy. The community is offered by Republic Development Corporation, Michigan's largest homebuilders.

Standard Liberty Square features, in addition to central air conditioning and nylon wall-to-wall carpeting, include storm windows and screens and storm doors, hooded range and garbage disposal, Formica countertops, two private parking spaces, front and rear landscaping and outside maintenance. An 8" concrete party wall separates the Town-Homes from each other for sound conditioning.

Republic is able to offer these features as standard because of its savings in townhouse construction techniques and the elimination of side lots, according to vice president John Goodman. Though attached, the Town-

Homes are being sold as single homes, not as condominiums or co-ops. FHA, VA and conventional financing is available.

"Liberty Square," Goodman says, "is unique in this market in that it combines the advantages of private homeownership and apartment living in a moderately priced package without the legal complications of condominiums or co-ops."

Buyers in Liberty Square receive title to their Town-Homes, their front and rear yards and their parking spaces, the same as a purchaser of a single family detached house.

Unlike detached house dwellers, Liberty Square residents are not responsible for maintaining roofs, painting exteriors, removing snow or keeping up the landscaping. Exterior maintenance is taken care of by a contract let by the Town-Home owners' association.

Largest of the Town-Homes is the 4-bedroom Heritage, with a spacious 16'9" x 11'5" living room and an 11'3" x 9'2" dining room. The 3-bedroom Jeffersonian has a 12'3" x 11'4" living room and the 2-bedroom Bostonian has a 15'8" x 12'6" owner's suite. All Town-Homes have a utility room with hook-ups for a washer and dryer.

Across the street from Liberty Square is the Rawsonville Elementary School. Junior and Senior high schools are less than two miles away by schoolbus in Belleville. Less than a mile away are a regional shopping center and recreational facilities at Ford and Belleville Lakes.

Liberty Square may be reached taking I-94 (Ford Expressway) west to the Rawsonville Road exit, south on Rawsonville Road exit, south on Rawsonville to Grove Road, west on Grove to the models.

From Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, take I-94 east to the Rawsonville Road exit and follow above directions.

Liberty Square is open daily from noon to 8 p.m., with the exception of Saturday, when it closes at 6 p.m., and Thursday, when it is closed all day.

Children happy with late bunny

Nearly 80 boys and girls from all over the city kept a belated appointment with the Easter Bunny Monday, when the Romulus Community Workers and The Romulus Concerned Parents groups sponsored an Easter egg hunt at the Neighborhood Action Center on Beverly Rd.

It was a beautiful morning and the kids were sharp eyed.

Before long there were some half-dozen winners who had collected up to 18 eggs each. There were also some little fellows who had as few as one, the adult helpers made sure that everyone found at least one.

Billy Cribbs, from the Gordonier Elementary School area, was among those who found only one egg, but his was the specially colored egg that earned him first prize. Priscilla Gray, from the Beverly Elementary School area, placed second and Charles Cribbs placed third. All the winners were awarded prizes.

Among those credited with persuading the old rabbit to stay over an extra day were: community workers, Mrs. Mary Stanczak, Mrs. Marie Bird, Mrs. Dorothy Martin, Mrs. Jesse Morris, and Mrs. Betty Hill.

Those from the Concerned Parents Association were: Mrs. Pearlene Glenn, Mrs. Mozella Jones, Mrs. Ethel LaMar. Some of the teenaged helpers were: Brenda Clark, Winnie Hill, Dan McAnally, Vernon Hill, Dirk Green and Michael Martin.

Catholic fund drive set

The theme of the 1971 Archdiocesan Development Appeal (ADF), from May 2 to 17, will be "One Family - In Christ". It was announced by John Cardinal Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit.

The usual concerns of the annual collection of about $2 million - including help for the deaf, ill and the handicapped and "for all in actual need who cry out to us in the name of Christ" - will be met. Additionally there will be stressed the financing of additional programs meeting current needs of youth and of the aged.

Robert H. Taylor, head of an engineering corp., who is a member of St. Hugo's Parish, Bloomfield Hills, will be lay-chairman and the Rev. Father Edward Hurley, pastor of Sacred Heart Church on Grosse Ile and Vicar of the Downriver Vicariate, will be priest-chairman.

Assistance to the aged has long been a field of ADF activity, as exemplified in Carmel Hall and other homes, in many activities of Catholic Social Services and in the programs of various divisions of the Archdiocesan Department of Christian Service.

The 1971 collection is expected to intensify the program sponsoring residences for the aged.

Youth also has long been a beneficiary of ADF generosity in such areas as Boysville of Michigan, Don Bosco Hall, the St. Louis School for Exceptional Children, Vista Maria and the Catholic Youth Organization. Drug counselling in one of the programs to be expanded through the 1971 collection.

Meanwhile on-going ADF programs, including help for the handicapped and quality education for the disadvantaged, will be financed in part or whole from the ADF collection.

One of its objects is to get meritorious programs started and then to "farm them out" to others. For example, Boysville after its launching a quarter-century ago was "adopted" by the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic fraternal organization.

Man makes dean's list

The Oregon State University has announced the names of local students who have made the scholastic Honor Roll for the winter term. The list of names included a Belleville student.

He is Richard M. Buss, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Buss, 47009 Denton Rd.

He received straight "A" during the term.

Widows eligible for school help

More than 175,000 widows of veterans who died of service-connected disabilities and 65,000 wives of veterans totally disabled are eligible for up to 36 months of educational benefits.

These women are eligible for such training under a law which became effective Dec. 1, 1968.

Wives and widows interested in educational assistance can contact local Veterans Service Organizations.

Widows of veterans who die of non-service connected causes are also eligible if their husband's disability was service-connected and total.

Macrame scheduled

The YWCA sponsored Young Matron's group will meet at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the Special Services Building, located at 7335 Washington St. for its final lesson in Macrame.

Miss Aileen Gray, field representative for the "Y" will give instructions in pattern reading.

Plans will be made for their next project. The Matron's group meets each second and fourth Thursday during the hours of the "Y" sponsored pre-school nurse-y.

Mrs. Shirley Gaynor and Mrs. Linda Grosman will bring refreshments.

Loan companies side with governor on tax

Michigan's savings and loan business is in total support of Governor William G. Milliken's proposal to eliminate the property tax as a source of regular school operating revenue, according to Donald F. Wall, executive vice president of the Michigan Savings and Loan League.

In supporting the Governor's statement concerning the need to lessen property tax burdens, Wall noted that over 60 per cent of all current property taxes go for school operating purposes.

While not commenting on the specifics of the Governor's overall proposal, Wall said, "As the major supplier of funds to finance residential mortgages, Michigan's S & L business has become increasingly concerned over the deterrent to home ownership afforded by the disproportionate tax burden on the property owner."

"Home ownership plays a very important role in satisfying social needs and promoting good citizenry through sound family development. It is the strong belief of the savings and loan business that government should act to promote home ownership rather than discouraging it through disproportionate tax burdens to the property owner," Wall concluded.

WCCC classes still available

There is still enough time to register for the spring semester at Wayne County Community College.

Classes begin May 3. Registration will continue through the end of April.

The spring semester is unusual in two respects: it is the first time WCCC has offered a third term in one year; and it will run for only seven weeks, until June 18.

Our seven-week limit was set to match the end of the fiscal year, June 30. To meet the usual fourteen-week requirements, double sessions will be held each week. A normal three-hour class, therefore, will meet for six hours a week.

The doubled-up semester is primarily a convenience for large numbers of present students, who need only one or two more courses for graduation, or to satisfy full-time requirements for veterans' benefits and the like.

The courses are open to anyone, however, on a first-come, first-served basis.

Because the semester was set up with the present students in mind, many courses are offered only at the secondary level; some introductory courses are not being offered at all.

For more information about registration, stop at the Garfield Building, 4612 Woodward, Detroit; or call 832-5699, or 832-6954.

A party honoring the cast of the play "Tom Sawyer" a recent presentation of Edgemont Drama Club, was held in the multi-purpose room of the Edgemont Elementary School.

at the school. More than 100 including the members of the cast, director James Lightfoot, stage people, parents and teachers were in attendance at the party.

The play's presentation was reported to be a success.

At the party, Mrs. Mona Salisbury served her special "Sloppy Joes". She was assisted by Mrs. Mary Ann Bassett, Mrs. Betty Gott, Mrs.

Barbara Boelter and Mrs. Faye Davis.

Casimer Michniewicz, school custodian, entertained at the party by playing the guitar and harmonica.

On April 12 the cast (47 members) was treated to the musical play of "Tom Sawyer" by the National Theater Company at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Director James Lightfoot sponsored the trip.

Scout troop 1739 has 10-day adventure trip

Boy Scout Troop 1739, of Romulus under the leadership of Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline, spent its Easter Vacation 30 miles south of Washington, D.C., in Woodrow Wilson Scout Reservation.

Those who went were: Charles R. Kline, Mike McCallum, Dale Mullins, Keith Kraushaar, Tommy Kraushaar, Kenney Clelland, Glenn Millar, Stanley

Marciniak, and alternate Marco Hernandez.

The trip had been in the planning stages for the last seven months with extensive hard work and teamwork, among all the parents of the troop.

The final relation came when the boys and their Scoutmaster boarded the plane at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

In this venture the troop supplied all of its own equipment, seventeen pieces of luggage, involving four pup tents, one six man tent, shovels, saws, axes, Coleman lantern, two cooking units and a variety of other items which were used frequently.

During their stay in Virginia, the boys visited Washington, D.C. Gettysburg Philadelphia, Camden, New York, Boys Scout National Headquarters in New Brunswick, N.J., Annapolis Naval Academy, and the various other historical sight seeing places in Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The entire stay was for the 10 days and a trip that probably will be remembered for many years to come for the boys.

Veterans push for rights bill

Veterans at Wayne State University and at least three other Detroit area campuses have begun their drive for passage of a Michigan G.I. bill of Rights.

The appeal for veteran support is beginning prior to introduction of the bill in the Michigan Legislature. Ralph Kelly, co-chairman of publicity for the Michigan G.I. Bill committee, says the bill has been drawn up by the Legislative Service Bureau and will be introduced within a few weeks by Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus).

Kelly says the bill will provide for veteran tuition, fees and books for two years in a state supported college or university. Tuition support will not exceed $900 per year and support for books and materials would not exceed $100 per year under the proposed bill.

The bill would also include a provision for state guaranteed loans of up to $10,000 for purchase of a home or business. The bill would cover only those veterans who were Michigan residents when they were inducted and at the time of their application for benefits.

Veterans must have served more than 12 months in the armed forces and have received a discharge other than dishonorable. A student would have to maintain a "C" average to remain eligible for educational benefits.

Kelly, a senior in Wayne State's College of Education, said that veteran's at Wayne State, University of Detroit, Lawrence Institute of Technology and Schoolcraft Community college will distribute literature Wednesday about the bill and ask veterans on the campuses to contact their State legislators and representatives asking support of the bill.

Members of the Wayne State University Veterans Club will be stationed in State Hall from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to provide information on the bill.

Kelly, a former captain in the Army, said, "I'm optimistic about our chances for passage of the bill. Legislators have supported veterans of past wars and I'm sure they will keep faith with the veterans of the Viet Nam era."

Contract proposal near for Romulus employees

Local 214 of the Teamsters State, County & Municipal Workers, the newly elected bargaining agent for Romulus city employees, is preparing contact proposals for submission to city council, it was reported Monday.

In a recent special election conducted under the supervision of the State of Michigan Labor Mediation Board, city employees voted in favor of Local 214 and rejected its present bargaining agent, Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County & Municipal Employees AFL-CIO.

The present contract between the 52 city employees and City Council expired on April 19, Jack Cant, of the Romulus Building Department, employees' representative, reported.

The election totals were 42 for the teamsters local, one for no union, and none for the Council 23. There was one challenged vote.

The employees had petitioned the State Labor Mediation Board for the election, complaining that their present union local failed to sufficiently represent their demands upon the city.

Election petitions available

Five school board members will be elected by Huron School District voters at its annual election to be held on Monday, June 14.

At stake are two four-year terms, two three-year terms and a one-year term.

Persons wishing to run for these posts may obtain petitions at the Board of Education office, located at 18955 Hannan Rd. in the Hannan Road Elementary School along with any information necessary.

The deadline for filing petitions with the Board of Education secretary Mrs. Jean Richert, is 4 p.m., Saturday, May 15.

Commission asks fund for relations booklets

A request for funds to finance the cost of a brochure to be entitled "Bridging the Gap of Human Relations" made by the City of Romulus Community Relations Commission, has been taken under advisement by Romulus City Council.

Action on the request made by Rev. Alvin Burton, commission member, will be considered at upcoming city budget hearings.

The commission, at its recent meeting, decided to print and distribute the brochure to citizens and to seek council's approval on using the city seal on the front of the proposed brochure.

Rev. Burton reported that a low bid of $189.50 for approximately 10,000 copies of the brochure has been received.

He also stated that the commission has been

The purpose of the commission is "To encourage and bring about mutual understanding and respect among all groups in the city, eliminate prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, discrimination and disorder occasioned thereby, and give effect to the guarantee of equal rights for all assured by the Constitution and the laws of this state and of the United States of America."

Members of the commission are: Miss Elvera Fischer, chairman; Nathaniel Butler, Council approves per diem policy

A $35 per diem policy for persons other than city employees traveling and engaged in city activities has been adopted by Romulus City Council.

The per diem rate of $35 for expenses excludes holidays or non working days and is in lieu of regular wages.

Councilman William M. Oakley made a motion at the April 15 session of council that City Council set such a policy.

Firms rehired

The Van Buren Township Board has approved service retaining contracts with its present certified public accountants, legal counselors and consulting engineers.

Retainer renewals were given to Schiff & Levy, CPAs; the law firm of Berry, Hopson, Francis and Mack, and Morris Levine & Associates of Detroit, consulting engineers.

Motion to retain the services of the above firms for another year was made by Trustee Joseph Hogan who was supported by Township clerk Mrs. Ema J. Payne.

The motion was approved unanimously at the April 13 meeting of the township board.

The township board also voted to retain the townships' present Auxiliary Police and not to retain the police commissioner and former township board member Walter Hink.

Kindergarten registration set

Parents of pre-kindergarten children who will be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1971, are urged to register their children at Pre-Kindergarten Registration Days in their local school, by Van Buren School District Officials.

The registration will offer an opportunity for parents to talk to the kindergarten teachers, nurses, and principal, the persons who will be closely connected with the new Kindergarten.

Parents Must Bring: 1. The child's birth certificate (or other legal proof of age). 2. Dates the child received immunization. 3. Records of any communicable diseases and date of occurrence.

This registration is necessary to the administration for the planning of school assignments in the fall. If you are unable to register in your own area, please register at any school in the district on the days indicated for registration. Children living in the Independence Square and Van Buren Estates subdivisions may be registered at either Haggerty Road Elementary or Quirk Road Elementary on the days indicated.

Registration for the pre-kindergarten children for the fall term in the Van Buren Public Schools will be as follows:

Horsemen uniting

When was the last time you slapped a saddle on "Ol' Paint" or "Queenie" and went for a nice ride? Has it been a while?

Icy roads and cold winds have kept most horsemen indoors, but soon spring and ideal riding conditions will be here.

Even now, the professional horsemen are training and polishing their show stock for another hopeful season. Show programs and prize lists are being sent out, while vets and blacksmiths are busy giving the final okays on their charges.

But what about the average horse-owner and his "Paint" and "Queenie"? Why aren't they getting all this attention? "My horses aren't registered — they can't go up against that kind of competition. Besides, I like to pleasure and trail ride," responded a local horseman.

For the owner of an un-registered horse there aren't many events or even organizations to join. Once you're past the 4-H age, it seems that you're also past the simple pleasures of horse meets and the congenial company of fellow horsemen.

A concerned group think that this need not be the case and have decided to take action.

"We would like to organize a Saddle Club for trail rides and other fun events. Just horse people getting together for a good time. It doesn't matter what kind of horse you have, or how you ride," Nancy Muck, a co-sponsor, explains. Interested horsemen may contact either Charlotte McBride at 720-6932 or Nancy at 941-3126.

Explosive act excludes power

Michigan's "explosive Act of 1970," which became law on April 1 may not include provisions for regulating the sale, purchase or possession of black and smokeless powder as well as ammunition primers and muzzle loading percussion caps. Col. John R. Plants, State Police director, expressed this view commenting on the law. "We are well aware of the discussion prior to and during the passage of the act and we must assume that black powder and smokeless powder were meant to be excluded from its language," Plants said. "Our officers have been instructed to recognize the exclusion of these powders until we have information to the contrary."

Early this year State Police officials asked Attorney General Frank J. Kelley for an opinion to determine whether black and smokeless powders are included in the definition of explosives in the new act.

A question arises over the language of the law as to whether those substances, are in fact excluded even though they are not specifically named.

Under the law, a purchaser of explosives must be 18 years old and have a permit from a police agency. The purchaser must give his name and address, social security number and proof of age. The purchaser must also explain his intended use of the explosives.

Austin to talk at suggestion meet

Richard H. Austin, Michigan secretary of state, will keynote the annual Detroit-Cleveland Regional Conference of the National Association of Suggestion Systems (NASS) April 27 in Detroit.

In conjunction with the meeting, Gov. William G. Milliken has proclaimed the week of April 25 Suggestion Week in Michigan.

Suggestion plans and their benefits will be outlined to business representatives from Michigan, Ohio and Canada during the one-day public session at the Engineering Society of Detroit Building, 100 Farnsworth Street, Detroit.

NASS is a non-profit nationwide organization founded in 1942 to encourage the adoption of suggestion systems and to exchange ideas relating to the administration of these programs. Its membership has grown to more than a thousand diversified companies and government agencies.

Chorus marks anniversary

The Sumpter Community Chorus celebrated its 11th Anniversary last Sunday afternoon at the Belleville High School Auditorium, 501 W. Columbia Ave.

The anniversary program featured guest choral groups from the area of Greater Metropolitan Detroit, including the Lighthouse Choral and the Ladies Choral of the Association of Seventh Day Adventist Churches, the Peoples Community Church Choir and the Senior Choir of Burns Avenue, Detroit.

Guest soloists included Sharon Jowers singing "Ride On, King Jesus," and "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," and Denny Wilson singing "If I Could Tell You."

The Sumpter Community Chorus has presented many concerts for church and civic organizations in southeastern Michigan. Although focusing this ministry in the Wayne and Washtenaw County areas, the chorus has given concerts in Ohio and Indiana.

The Sumpter Chorus is an interracial group on nonprofessional singers representing several denominations and communities, whose members join together because they love to sing and believe that "Christ can break down the barriers that separate us and make us one in Him."

Baptists, Methodists, Seventh Day Adventists and others from the communities of Sumpter, Belleville, Ypsilanti, Willow Run, Milan, Carleton and Chelsea Unite in a ministry of song.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Clark, the chorus practices at the Pleasant Valley African Methodist Episcopal Church in Sumpter Township.

Bee conference set

The annual Beekeeping Seminar sponsored by the Southeast Michigan Beekeeper's Association (SEMBA) and the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University will be held this Saturday at the Quirk Rd. 4-H Fairgrounds.

The seminar will have bee authorities from Michigan and Ohio to assist people who raise bees or are interested in starting an apiary.

The April 24 seminar begins at 8:30 a.m. Free door prizes including a hive of bees and an observation hive will be awarded.

Dr. E.C. Martin of the MSU

Department of Entomology will discuss pollination, spring management, bee diseases, locating an apiary and the queen bee.

Frank Braddock, Alex Bezenke and Cecil Alderman of SEMBA will participate in the discussion of the above bee topics.

Linen party slated

Plans are underway for the Annual Linen Party sponsored by the Romulus Service Mothers Club. The event will take place Tuesday, April 27, at the Romulus Progressive Club Hall, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

The party is held to raise funds for Christmas boxes, which the club sends annually to Romulus Township folks in service.

Eagles keep on winning

Ballard marks 3rd straight shutout

Leighton Ballard pitched his third straight shutout Friday as the Eagles pounded Huron 9-0 for their fourth straight victory. Earlier in the week, Ballard led Romulus in a tough 1-0 win over a determined group from Riverview.

In three outings so far this year, Ballard has not allowed a run. His shutout victims are Cherry Hill, Riverview and Huron. Annapolis was also on the schedule last week, but the game had to be cancelled because Annapolis' baseball field was not in condition.

In the win over Riverview, Romulus collected one run on four hits and committed one error. Riverview had two hits and three errors. Ballard walked five and struck out eight.

He continues to lead the Eagles hitting attack with an average well over .500, the team is also showing power with the bat as they are batting at a hot .310 clip as a team. Virgil Smith, a sophomore standout for coach Lowell Johnson also collected a single in the Riverview contest, as did Bill Eager. Ballard collected two hits in three trips to the plate.

Johnson is pleased with the defensive skills displayed by his charges so far this season. "I haven't had a team as good defensively as this one is, they are showing post season form and its still early in the year. We have only committed four errors in as many games and that kind of speaks for itself."

Smith has been outstanding at shortstop and Johnson is looking for two more big years for his young star.

In the Huron contest, Romulus collected nine runs on 10 hits and had no errors.

Huron managed two hits and committed two errors.

Rod Leake smashed a three run homer to lead Romulus to a five run first inning. Frank Mayeran began to break out of an early slump by recording a three for four day at the plate. Mayeran blasted two doubles and collected two RBI's.

Ballard, besides striking out nine and not allowing any walks, also collected two hits.

Coach Johnson is happy with the team's performance so far this year but is also cautious. "We're off to a good start, but I don't want to go out on a limb because something could happen to us. The boys are playing fantastic ball and Ballard is having an unbelievable year so far. I just hope that we can keep it all going."

Johnson hopes may soon be realized as the Eagles tangle with Belleville and Ypsilanti this week. Both are emotional contests but Johnson is looking forward to both games. "I always like playing these two teams, the game seems to bring out the best in both clubs and we always have a real battle with both schools," Johnson said.

Belleville and Ypsilanti will have their hands full as the Eagles have been tuning up for four games and three of them have been shutouts.

ROMULUS DELUGE - Romulus had little trouble with the Chiefs of Huron as Leighton Ballard led the Eagles to a 9-0 shutout victory in a non-league meeting. Ken McMann displays some hustle as he slides safely home, well ahead of a throw as Huron catcher David Kemp is poised and still waiting for the throw. Romulus didn't take very long as they jumped on their opponents for five big runs in the first inning.

Strikeouts, errors hurting Chiefs

Errors and strikeouts proved disastrous for the Chiefs of Huron as they dropped two baseball contests within a week. The Chiefs have been off to a slow start, but coach Ron Smith is pleased with the performance of some of his sophomores and juniors and hopes to build a strong team with youth.

Huron fell victim to Carlson 9-3 in their first encounter. Carlson had nine runs on seven hits and only one error. The Chiefs collected three runs on five hits but they also committed seven errors.

The game was originally scheduled for Wednesday, but rain cancelled the contest, forcing a postponement until Thursday.

Butch Suemnick continues to lead Huron's hitting attack as the senior slugger is pounding the ball at a .455 clip in league action. Suemnick went two for three against Carlson as he collected a double and a single.

Jamie Hinojosa, one of Smith's sophomore sensations, also pounded but two hits in three trips and Dave Kemp, a sophomore catcher elevated from the junior varsity ranks came in and singled his only time at bat.

Gregg Cole, utilizing great speed and power, was the winning pitcher. On his way to the victory, the Carlson hurler fanned 10 Chiefs.

Huron could do no better against Romulus as Leighton Ballard led the Eagles to a 9-0 shutout. Jamie Hinojosa got the starting nod and was hit for eight runs, five of them coming in the first inning.

Smith said that the team is trying and that hitting problems and defensive lapses have been costly so far this season. "We need a little work in the outfield," he said, "I have already lost one regular outfielder for the season and we need to get some strength out there."

Hitting is also a problem, Ballard fanned nine of the Chiefs enroute to his shutout victory, that brings to 19 the number of strikeouts by opposing pitchers in two games.

Huron will play host to Tecumseh on Wednesday and will travel to Airport on Friday for another league contest.

Sports retort

All about the good ole baseball

By Dann Barkume

Next time you pick up a baseball, try and figure out what goes into making one. It's more than horsehide.

Did you know that a baseball has to weigh at least five ounces, but cannot exceed more than five and one quarter ounces, and did you also know that much of the work in manufacturing a baseball is done by hand?

A baseball is at least nine inches in circumference, and cannot exceed nine and a quarter inches around and the specifications surrounding the materials used in assembly must be strictly adhered to.

Some of the following information may be of interest to some of the ladies.

A special cushioned cork center starts the whole thing off, the winding must be completed by following four different operations and the yarn must be of 98 per cent wool, with at least 75 per cent of the wool being new.

The "core" of a baseball is a small pill made of ground cork and rubber, encased in two shells of firm rubber that are separated by a red cushion washer. The washer is surrounded by a layer of soft rubber, and the yarn is attached to the rubber by a special adhesive.

The yarn is wound by machinery.

The first two windings call for a strong, four-ply gray wool yarn. The third winding is a three-ply white virgin wool yarn and the fourth is a three-ply gray wool yarn.

For major league baseballs, another winding of two-ply cotton yarn is used to make a smooth surface for the application of the covers.

Men with all his technical advancement, has yet to figure out a way to develop a machine that will sew the cover onto a baseball. With men flying to the moon, we still rely on people to sew on the cover of a baseball.

The cover itself resembles a butterfly pattern when cut. The horsehide, or cowhide, is treated with alum and two patterns are used for each baseball.

The thread used is red in color and is specially treated with beeswax. The ball is held on a vise and turned by hand or with foot pedals and 108 stitches are used to sew each baseball. Five-ply twine is used and there is 88 inches of the stuff used on each baseball made. The thread is sewn into place by using two, two-inch harness needles.

Ironically, most of the people who actually do the stitching on baseballs are women, and they have to use tape or leather finger guards to avoid cuts when tightening the twine.

The first and final stitches must be tucked under the cover in order to be secure, yet they cannot distort the surface of the baseball. They say that the first and last stitch are the keys to a good baseball.

After being sewn, the ball is put between a pair of circular maple rollers to flatten the seams. A fine powder polishes the cover and the ball is ready to be shipped.

In most instances, the ball is ready for play, unless it happens to be destined for major league use.

Before each major league game, the home team supplies several dozen baseballs, that receive special treatment from the umpire assigned to call the balls and strikes that day.

Each ball is rubbed with special mud that comes from the Mississippi River basin. The mud takes the shine off of the baseball, yet does not discolor it.

In major league play, a baseball is thrown out if it has the slightest imperfection or smudge. In lower leagues, such luxuries are not always a fact. Baseballs are not inexpensive.

The entire, complex procedure has been deemed necessary in order to maintain uniformity in baseballs. Some of the more inexpensive brands do not follow such rigid specifications, but all baseballs are made in the same basic fashion.

The next time you go out to play catch, take a look at the old ball and think about how much time and effort went into making it. Next time you see Denny McLain, ask him if he thinks about what he is holding in his hand when he is facing Boog Powell with two out in the ninth and the bases loaded.

Denny will probably say, "Sure I know what's inside a baseball, and I would also like to say its great to be back, again."

Pettus to compete in AAU this season

Garrade Pettus, Belleville's super track man, who ranked fifth in the 180 yd. low hurdles and third in the running high jump last year in the national AAU Junior Olympic tabulations for the senior division, is planning to compete in the 21st season of the AAU track and field competition.

Pettus, who recorded a time of 20.5 for the hurdles and leaped a height of 6'7" in the high jump is off to another fine season. He is scheduled to compete in the senior division this year and is one of an estimated five million youngsters who will compete in various AAU outdoor contests during the 1971 season.

Pettus is currently competing in his final track season at Belleville High School where he has established himself as a premier performer.

ANN ARBOR -- Michigan's tennis team had the unusual happen last weekend, losing a dual match to Illinois, 6-3. The Wolverines rebounded, though, to top Purdue, 9-0, and continue as one of the top contenders for the conference crown.

A RARE OCCASION - Keith Simmons became a rare victim for Romulus as he is tagged out at a play at the plate by Huron pitcher Jamie Hinojosa. It was a rare occasion as Romulus belted the Chiefs by a score of 9-0 in a non-league contest last week.

Belleville to host district

For the first time in history, the Michigan High School Athletic Association will conduct a standard state baseball tournament. The district tournaments are scheduled to begin the first week in June. The survivors will advance to regional tournament competition, set to begin on June 12.

The state finals will be conducted beginning June 19. The Class A championships will be held at Wayndotte High School, Central High School in Battle Creek will host the Class B finals; Marshall High School in Marshall will be the host of the Class C tournament finals, and the Class D finals are slated for Mt. Pleasant High School in Mt. Pleasant.

It is the first time that the MSHAA has agreed to hold such statewide baseball tournaments. In recent years, prep teams have been competing in invitational tournaments after the regular season play.

Belleville High School has been designated as the site for an "A" district playoff. Among the teams that will gather there are the host, Adrian, Ann Arbor Huron, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Monroe, Huron High School will com pete in the Class B tournament, with district playoffs scheduled for Flat Rock High School in Flat Rock. Huron will compete with Flat Rock, Carleton-Airport, Erie-Mason, Gibraltar Carlson, Grosse Ile, Ida, Milan, Monroe-Catholic Central, Monroe-Jefferson, Riverview-Gabriel Richard, and Riverview.

Rules governing the tournament will be supervised by the MSHAA, each team will take part in the single game elimination tournament. District winners will advance to the regionals and regional champions will compete in the finals in mid-June.

Shorthanded Romulus drops another meet

A triangular meet with Cranbrook and Robichaud proved disastrous for Romulus as the Eagle thinclads finished third with a total score of 22½. Cranbrook took the championship with a mark of 67 and Robichaud came in second with a score of 54.

The Eagles did manage a second place finish in the mile relay. Their total points were less than half of Robichaud, their next closest competitor in team competition.

Meriweather is concerned with the Eagles performances this year and was upset over the fact that Easter vacation necessitated his taking a small squad to the triangular meet. "We tried, but I had to go with only one competitor in most events."

Meriweather praised Ron Buckley for his performance. "He really looked good out there and he carried the team. If he hadn't competed, we wouldn't have gotten the points that we did."

David Bell also had a good meet as he placed in two events.

Meriweather hopes for brighter days when he can field a full complement of Eagle thinclads.

Romulus was scheduled to play host to Hamtramck on Monday in dual meet action and the Eagles will travel to Willow Run for another dual meet on Thursday.

Ron Buckley carried the Eagles, who were suffering from a lack of personnel. Romulus went with only 18 competitors, as Easter vacation took many of the contestants out of town. Coach Jesse Meriweather was forced to go with only one competitor in most events.

Buckley finished strong in the long jump with a second, he placed second in the high jump and third in the pole vault. His strong performance gave Romulus the bulk of their team points.

Bob Gooden ranked second in the shot put and Marvin Williams finished close behind to take third place in the event. Romulus finished second in the 880 yard relay, after Robichaud was disqualified for tripping a Romulus runner. Cranbrook easily captured the 800 relay title.

David Bell finished third in the 120 yard high hurdle event and John Arrington placed third in the 40 yard dash.

George Doyle sprinted to a second place finish in the 100 yard dash and David Bell wound up with a tie for second place in the 180 yard low hurdle event.

Dave Blundell wrapped up third place in the two mile run but the Eagles were unable to place in the 200 yard dash.

Pettus breaks Mansfield record

Is there no way to stop Belleville's Garrard Pettus? The outstanding and versatile athlete who has All-Area stripes in football, basketball and track, won four events in a triangular meet at Ypsilanti, with Cherry Hill also in on the action last week.

Pettus claimed the high (16.0), low (20.8) hurdles, the long jump (20 feet 4¾ inches) and the high jump (6 feet) as Belleville placed second to host Ypsilanti 51-49. Cherry Hill was a close third with 45 points.

Tony Ogletree finished behind Pettus in both hurdle events to tag two second place finishes. Phil Combs finished third in the half mile and Jon Cross wrapped up second place in the mile run.

Belleville showed some class in the two mile run as they carded a first, second and third place finish. Lonni Clark led the pack with a time of 10:09. John Cicotte placed second and Garry Raffitt followed with a third place finish.

Dave Lorentson took a fourth place in the 100 yd. dash and Allen VanDecar took a third in the 440 yard run. Mark Davis carded a fourth place finish in the mile.

Belleville won the four mile distance medley at the Mansfield Relays in Mansfield, Ohio over the weekend.

The other highlight in he meet was the performances of Pettus in the high jump and the long jump events. Pettus, who held the mark for the high jump for his efforts last year, broke his own record by a half an inch with a leap of 6 feet 8 and ¾ inches.

Pettus missed on his first two attempts at 6 feet 3 inches, but came back to clear the bar on his first jump for the rest of the competition. Pettus finally missed at 6 feet 9 and ¾ inches, after he had taken the championship.

Pettus also bested the competition in the long jump, wrapping up his second gold medal of the competition. Usually a hurdler, Pettus did not compete in the hurdles events at the Mansfield meet.

Led by Pettus, the Tigers earned 10 team points, good enough to place them in the top 20 teams for the overall competition.

Track coach Ken Head admitted that the Tiger thinclads did not care too well at the Mansfield event, but he added, "We did a lot of traveling, and the boys were up late, that may have had some effect on our performance."

The distance relay victory and Pettus' two gold medals, were the only points that Belleville managed to earn at the Mansfield ReLays.

Led by Pettus' outstanding start, the Tigers are looking forward to their first dual meet of the season. They are scheduled to face Plymouth at home this week, and they will then play host to Redford Union later in the week. Head feels that the early season tune-ups have given the thinclads an advantage as they have gotten used to competition, without risking their standing in the Suburban Six League.

HITTING THE DUST - Going in feet first to score one of the nine runs they collected against nonleague rival Huron on Friday is an unidentified Romulus base runner. The Eagles blanked the New Boston team with Leighton Ballard cashing in for his third consecutive shutout of the season. Huron is at Airport tomorrow while Romulus doesn't have anything on the baseball menu until Monday when they will play Huron in a rematch.

Pool rules valuable

The National Safety Council estimates that 270 persons drowned in home swimming pools last year. Home swimming pool owners this year are urged to keep these precautions in mind:

Keep the pool under constant surveillance when in use. Have a well anchored cover over the pool when it is not in use.

Do not permit children to swim in the pool without adult supervision.

Have a fence with self-latching lock around the pool.

Have a rescue device, such as a long pole, and a well-equipped first aid kit at the poolside. Learn how to use them and to apply artificial respiration.

Prohibit running or roughhousing of any sort around the pool area.

Electricity and water don't mix. Keep all electrical equipment away from the pool side. Also, never swim after drinking alcoholic beverages.

Today is Secretaries Day in the state of Michigan

All secretaries are honored in April and the National Secretaries Association (International) once again is sponsoring Secretaries Week to bring recognition to secretaries for the vital role they play in business, industry, education, government, and professions. The theme of Secretaries Week stresses the professional objective "Better secretaries mean better business."

This year, Secretaries Week is being observed April 18 through April 24 with today, April 21, designated as Secretaries Day. Governor William E. Milliken has affixed his signature to a document proclaiming this week as Secretaries Week.

Activities during the week for the Town and Country Chapter, NSA, included the annual Secretary of the Year and Bosses Night Dinner at the Chicago Road Steak House this evening. The program will include the presentation of Marilyn Popp as this year's title recipient. Guest speaker will be Willard Cheek, Manager, Educational Relations, General Motors, whose talk will be "The future is our assignment."

Handling arrangements for Secretary of the Year activities is chairman Sophie Zoller of Belleville.

The National Secretaries Association has done much to advance and elevate the standards of secretarial performance by encouraging member self-development through education courses and offering unlimited opportunities in the field of education and self-improvement.

The theme of the Conference is "A common cause - better service and care for foster children." The group sessions which have been organized and will be chaired by foster parents from all over the United States, will serve as the first forum for an exchange of ideas on a

The National Foster Parents group hopes that this will be the first of a succession of annual conferences which will improve both communication and services between agencies, public and private, and foster parents.

Green oranges are ripe

That hint of green in the peel of some oranges and grapefruit does not mean these fruits lack ripeness, says a district extension consumer marketing information agent with Michigan State University. "Citrus trees are unlike other fruit trees," explains Miss Ada Shinabarger, "in that it's normal for mature fruit, developing fruit and blossoms to be on the same tree at the same time."

As a result, the peel of oranges and grapefruit may be retinted with chlorophyll manufactured for the new crop. This regreening only affects the peel, however, and does not lower fruit quality, Miss Shinabarger points out.

Laws in producing states assure consumers there and elsewhere that citrus fruits are not picked until ripe. Nevertheless, consumers associate greening with unripe fruit, so citrus fruits which have regreened often sell for less.

"The thrifty shopper will recognize regreening as a sign of savings without loss in quality," Miss Shinabarger says.

All Around The Town

...with Lee

The open road draws travelers

AREA FAMILIES by the droves departed Belleville prior to the recent holiday, many with travel trailers in tow, for their own special vacation spots. The Smokies and Florida seemed to be the favorites for most of our travelers who, in most cases, enjoyed balmy weather similar to that we had in south-eastern Michigan.

Their choice is the Sunshine State

THE FLORIDA crowd included the Walt Skszeks with Karen and Tim who motored to Lake Worth and the West Palm Beach circuit for their week's stay.

While there, they visited Leo and Virginia Turney and family who were at Hollywood for their spring respite. They also chanced upon Linda Box and Wendy Smith, (who'd flown down to W. Palm Beach) while ordering pizza.

And they also saw something of the Ernie Patkes who were at Ft. Lauderdale, having winged their way down with daughter, Sharon and her friend, Pam Stead.

THE BILL HUDGES and their trio were away for two weeks with Tarpon Springs, Florida as their target. As houseguests of his folks, the Leonard Huges, they marked Mike's 14th birthday with dinner at the Kapok Tree in Tampa and also celebrated Easter Sunday together. Before returning to Belleville they spent some time in Gatlinburg.

PAM MILLER, sporting an envious tan, arrived home by plane Sunday after spending the week at Melbourne, Florida with her grandparents, the Ralph Vescys. A week earlier her brother, Jeff, made the same trip during his spring break at Michigan State.

And then...

There's the Smokies

GATLINBURG'S STATE park, we hear, was virtually loaded with Van Buren School personnel with a number of our community's families camped right in town.

Among the latter group were Ray and Lee Van Buhler and their foursome and Ray and Ginny Memering with Paula, Girard and Theresa. They tell us the Jack Fords and son, Bruce, were lodged at the same resort and that the Charles Minthorns were somewhere in the vicinity since they bumped into Gert while shopping.

AND STILL another twosome in the Smokey National Park region were the Hazen Giars (she has Pickwick Antiques on Savage Road.) They visited friends in Asheville, N.C. and did a bit of 'antiquing' during their travels.

New York, D.C. Kentucky are other targets

THEN THERE was the segment of our populace that headed for the East Coast during Easter week. The Roger Allyn's spent five days in New York City seeing a couple Broadway shows, dining out at interesting spots, and in general, 'living it up,' as they said.

THE EDWARD KOSSES chose the nation's capitol as their destination. With Jennie, Steve and Craig along, they 'did' Washington, D.C. and outlying areas while camping out nearby.

LEAVING BELLEVILLE early Wednesday morning, Patty Ritchie, Lynn Orr, Jan Renton, and Luanne Smith motored southward to Kentucky, stopped for lunch at Boone Tavern at Berea College and later toured the campus, then spent the night with Patty's cousins, Judy and Frank Hudson in Lexington. The next day they headed for Viper where they were the houseguests for three days of Patty's grandmother, Mrs. B.W. Ritchie, and her aunts, Kitty and Mallie Ritchie.

Families observe Easter Sunday

DEPARTING THEIR Elwell Road home on Thursday, the Arthur Shephards and son, Brian, took off for a long holiday weekend with their destination in Olewein, Iowa.

As houseguests of Mrs. Shephard's cousins, the Floyd Hoppes', they toured the area, attended Easter Sunday services at the First Methodist Church in Fairbanks (an eight-pew building and one of the tiniest churches in the country), and rounded out the day with a family get-together of some 35 for the holiday dinner.

DR. AND MRS. Ronald Sierota and daughters of Quirk Road spent the holiday afternoon in Dearborn as guests of Jan's brother-in-law and sister, the John Hands. Others at the family dinner were their parents, Dr. and Mrs. John Kadle; their grandfather, Lucius Gronney; and their aunt, Mrs. Dana Miller, all of Dearborn.

TRADITIONALLY HELD at the home of Jan and Joe Ross in Garden City, Easter dinner for the Bokon family took place at the John Bokon's on Willis Road. Because Clara's forbidden auto travel until her back mends (she recently had surgery for a disintegrated disc), her two married daughters brought all the fixin's 'home' for the occasion.

With Jan and her sister, Barb Lewis, as hostesses, the gathering included Mary Bokon of Garden City, Kathy and Johnnie, Mrs. William Sietz, Jim Lewis and the four children, and Joe Ross with Joey and Julie.

THE FAY FERGUSONS of Judd Road invited their family home for the holiday with a 100 per cent turnout being recorded. Sitting down for dinner at one o'clock were Jim and Marie Doser from Ann Arbor; Richard, Barbara and Terry Ferguson and children, Miss Ethel Parr (a close neighbor), and Shelly Erhart.

Two days earlier the Bob Fergusons had dinner with Roger and Diane in honor of her April 9 birthday. Coming in later for cake and ice cream were the Fay Fergusons and Jim and Pat Shephard.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS SWAIN

Father of the bride presides at wedding

Donna Sue Spracklen, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Weldon Spracklen of Wayne, became the bride of Kenneth Dennis Vektor of Belleville at a Saturday ceremony held at Calvary Baptist Church, Wayne.

The Rev. Spracklen, pastor of the church, officiated at the evening, double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Terry Spencer, associate pastor. He also gave his daughter in marriage.

Arrangements of white and yellow carnations, palms and spiral candelabra formed the background for the ceremony, and musical selections, "True Love," and "The Lord's Prayer," were by Mrs. John Dunne, organist, and John Dunne, soloist.

Candelights for the ceremony were Miss Cindy Ellsworth and Jodie and Scotty Spielman, cousins of the bridegroom.

The bride chose a gown of white dacron organza over silk, with an overlay of Venice lace on the empire bodice. Matching lace petals, edged with seed pearls held the bride's veil of illusion, also edged in Venice lace.

To complete her wedding ensemble, the bride carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Miss Debbie Spracklen, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor wearing a gown patterned after that of the bride, hers in yellow organza over satin with white Venice lace accenting the neckline, sleeve cuffs and bodice. She carried a single, longstemmed yellow rose, worked with extra petals, a velvet stem and foliage.

The maid of honor's costume was duplicated in those worn by the bridesmaids. They were Miss Vicky Spracklen, also a sister of the bride; Mrs. Tom Havera and Miss Kathy Scudder.

Anna Heath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Heath, and Sherry Frey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Frey,

Swain-Wallace vows

MSU students married at Methodist Church

Double ring vows were exchanged March 20 between Jacque Lee Wallace of Belleville and Dennis Swain of Michigan Center. The first United Methodist Church of Belleville was reserved for their seven thirty nuptials conducted by the Rev. Charles Dibley with Father Raymond Skoney in attendance.

White gladiolas and tall candelabra formed the setting as Jacque walked to the altar with her father. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving G. Wallace of 14225 Elwell Road, Belleville, she appeared in a bridal creation of organza and Chantilly lace. The high-rise lace bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and chapel sleeves and the skirt was designed in toe-touching length.

Completing her bridal finery were a full-length mantilla and bouquet of white carnations encircling a detachable orchid corsage.

MRS. DONALD N. RITZENHEIN of Warren was her sister's only attendant. Her yellow organza gown in the empire mode was frosted with lace. She added a matching headpiece and held hand bouquet of assorted garden flowers with yellow daisies predominating.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Swain of Michigan Center, asked his brother, Tom, a student at Michigan State University, to serve as best man. Donald Ritzenheim of Warren, brother-in-law of the bride; and Mark Bergstrom of Rochester, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

AT THE RECEPTION, which followed in the Fellowship Hall, Mrs. Wallace greeted guests in a gold sheath with a matching coat and beige accessories. A blue knit suit was the choice of Mrs. Swain. Both mothers were presented with cymbidium orchid corsages.

The newlyweds, who are making their home at 541

Jessop Avenue, Lansing, have postponed their honeymoon to Bear Lake until June when Dennis will graduate from Michigan State University.

Both Jacque and her husband attend M.S.U. where she is a junior English major and he a history major. An employee of Varsity Taxi Co., E. Lansing, he plans to continue in graduate school. The new Mrs. Swain is employed at J.W. Knapp's in Lansing.

MISS McCULLY

June 19 is their altar date

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred D. McCully of 12410 Lake Pointe Pass, Belleville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ruth, to Joseph Emerson Lech.

A graduate of Belleville High School in 1969, the bride-elect attended Ferris State College and is presently a student at Cleary College, Ypsilanti.

Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Joseph L. Lech of 24131 Thomas St., Warren, and the late Mr. Lech. A graduate of Detroit Cathedral High School in 1967, he will receive his Bachelor's Degree from the School of Education at Michigan State University in late summer.

A June 19 wedding date has been chosen.

Freeze-dried flowers are the 'latest'

Freeze-dried flowers soon may be stocked in your local supermarket, says a Michigan State University district extension consumer marketing information agent. According to Miss Ada Shinabarger, fresh flowers are being frozen, then dried to extract water. A special preservative is then added which keeps the flowers fresh for about eight weeks.

Developers say any variety can be processed and that the finished product needs no water. Plans are to sell the flowers through supermarkets. Miss Shinabarger says. The price is expected to be competitive with fresh flowers.

Get mothballs

If you're having trouble with dogs raiding your plastic-wrapped trashpiles, here's a helpful hint to alleviate the situation.

Simply buy some moth balls or flakes and sprinkle them liberally around the rubbish. That's all it takes to keep the critters from attacking the trash. It must be the smell!

"And now about you, dear—where would you like to go?"

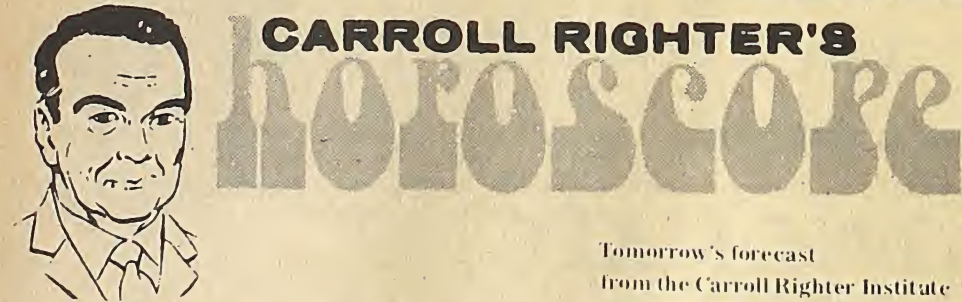

PASS IT ON
by L.M. Boyd

Our love and war man says the fellow who considers himself a good cook is particularly hard to please in matrimony. Should be matched up with a girl who regards herself as a good driver ... "How many towns named after modern fictional characters can you call to mind?" inquires a client. Can only think of two. Tarzana, Calif., and Tarzan, Tex. Must be more ... You started out with about twice as many ribs as you have now, realize that? Up to four dozen in the beginning. The extra ribs disappeared before you were born.

young fellow. It flies. Using sufficient horsepower to support its weight. Now it has been proved an ordinary healthy man, who weighs six times as much as a great bustard, can turn out six times as much horsepower, too. So such a man could fly, if he had wings. Likewise a cat with wings. And a dog with wings. But a winged horse, lacking the horsepower to support its weight, could not. At least not for long. It would crash. A London scientist turned Dr. D.R. Wilkie figured that out in an extensive study of great bustards. Fact you can put a crab to sleep by rubbing it gently on its underside, that's common knowledge. Less widely known is the fact you can also put a full-grown alligator to sleep that way. Everglades sportsmen like to astonish the onlookers with that trick, I'm told.

The great bustard weighs about 30 pounds. That's a bird,

Tomorrow's forecast
from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: An excellent day and evening for you to make plans for the future. This can be done in privacy and with the aid of advisors who are experienced in your problems and who will keep your activities in confidence. Good for deciding about property matters for the future.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ideal day for expanding in your field of endeavor and to show others you are a very considerate person. Engage in a hobby you like with mate tonight. Show that you are particularly devoted.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Put those ideas to work that will delight your friends and help make more worthwhile acquaintances. Attend social affairs where interesting people congregate. Avoid arguments.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Make a better name for yourself in the public world by getting advice from higher-ups on how to improve your image. Learn more modern techniques that improve your activities. Show that you are alert.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Study those ideas which good friends have given you. Later put them in operation. Plan your vacation trip now so you can count the cost. Take it easy tonight.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Study the specifics of work that associates desire of you so that you can perform in a most accurate fashion. Concentrate on the pleasant aspects of your relationship with mate and build on that now

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Ideal day to discuss with associates and come to a fine understanding for the future since the planets are very favorable now. Show tact with those who oppose you. Clear up difficult points quickly.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Scheduling your time better will help ease workload and make it possible to show your fine ability to others. Listen to what a co-worker has to say. It could bring advancement. Cooperate.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Discuss with associates whatever it is that you have in your mind, and you will get good results therefrom. Take care of correspondence later. Avoid doing anything that will get you into trouble.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Although a condition at home is puzzling, an intelligent solution can be found, so don't let it bother you. In the evening do some entertaining at home. Don't be extravagant.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need assistance with regular routines today, since you have permitted them to pile up. Co-workers will gladly cooperate. Take it easy at home in the evening. Control your temper.

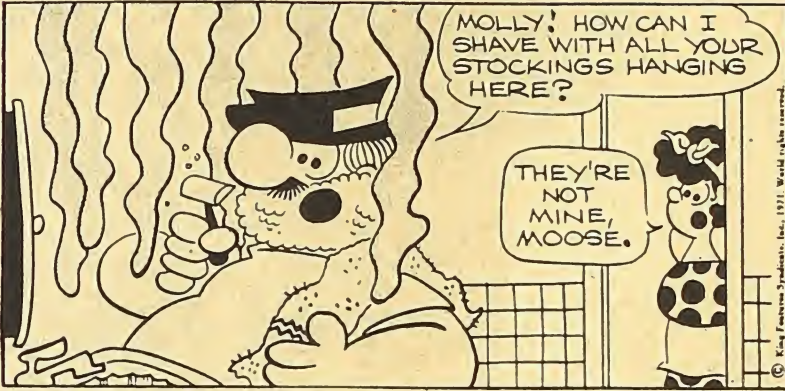

Aquarius (Jan. 2 to Feb. 19) Spend more time getting financial affairs improved to the satisfaction of those who dwell with you. Then, more harmony reigns at home. A plan you have concerning property should be put in operation.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you mix socially, you find you can gain personal aims quickly. Show that you have tact. Show appreciation for good friends and do some entertaining tonight.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those unusual young people who can understand both sides of any question, but there is a tendency to be unable to make up the mind as to the solution because of the tremendous amount of deliberation. To offset this, teach early to take a stand and stick to it. This is one life that needs religion more than anything else, since the intellect is a deep one, and must have right answers to be happy. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

Belvil Bar is fined

The Belvil Bar, located at 453 Main St. Belleville, was assessed a $100 fine by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for selling after the legal hour.

The fine, payable by April 26, was assessed following a hearing before one of the commission's hearing examiners at the Lincoln Park offices of the commission on March 16.

The liquor law violation occurred in June of last year, commission investigators reported.

Dems plan drive for members

The Romulus Democratic Club is planning a membership drive during the months of May and June. Eight new members and one associate member were accepted at the club's recent meeting.

The guest speaker for this month's meeting will be George Wilhelm, director of the Romulus Urban Renewal Program. He will explain the Urban Renewal Project now underway in the city and answer questions.

Also on the agenda will be the nominations and elections of officers.

The next meeting of the club will be held at 8 p.m. at the Romulus VFW Hall on April 29.

Extension service runs growth experiments

Can a youngster living in an inner-city high-rise find true happiness growing crops in a windowbox?

The Cooperative Extension Service thinks so — especially if he has the opportunity to carry out some interesting, fun-to-do experiments with seeds, plants and soils.

The program also continues to be popular with farm youths who grow profitable acreages of crops. They too can appreciate the science approach as they experiment with insect, disease and weed control, fertilizers and new management concepts.

There are over 105,000 4-Hers enrolled in the field crops science program, many from metropolitan areas. Now they have available to them a new series of educational materials providing a wide variety of exciting projects dealing with growing plants and soils.

Currently in use are educational materials on plant reproduction, soils and plant characteristics. An introductory unit briefly covers the broad areas of plant and soil science.

Examples of experiments 4-H members can conduct include learning about the life cycle of beans and making a seed collection, germinating seeds and numerous methods of plant reproduction.

Members discover what makes up the physical condition of soils and collect and label rocks and soils. There are numerous other experiments for the young people to conduct and interesting learning experiences to enjoy.

Still to be released are educational materials on growing and using plants, field crops production and research.

Incentives and recognition offered through Amchem Products sponsorship include four gold-plated medals of honor for outstanding members in each county. The state award is an expense-paid trip to the 50th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28 - Dec. 2. From these winners the Cooperative Extension Service will select recipients of six national educational scholarships of $700 each.

For more information about the 4-H field crops science program and how to participate as a member or local 4-H leader, contact the county extension office.

Ford salesmen honored

Hugh M. Betts and Martin Potzger of Atchinson Ford Sales Inc., Belleville, were honored for their outstanding sales performance during 1970 at a banquet Tuesday, April 20.

The two Ford salesmen received their 300-500 Club membership pins during the banquet at the Elmwood Casino.

The 300-500 Club was founded 21 years ago to recognize the performance of outstanding Ford salesmen throughout the country. About 11,000 of Ford's 27,000 salesmen from coast-to-coast become members of the club in 1970.

"Excellent retail sales performance is the basis for entry into the 300-500 Club," said J. Carver Wood, Jr., Ford Division's Detroit district sales manager. "The average member sold about $750,000 worth of automotive merchandise during 1970 to qualify for the national honor."

Some 375 Detroit district Ford salesmen were honored at the April 20 banquet, including eight "Top Hatters," the highest award any Ford salesman can earn.

Students entertain youngsters

The fifth grade students entertained the youngsters of Elwell Elementary School.

The students had been working hard for the past few weeks making hand puppets for a puppet show.

They selected their stories and adapted them somewhat and wrote their own scripts.

The preparation finally came to an end last week. The "big show" was complete with programs and clowns.

They gave two half hour performances, one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

"It was a fabulous show and its amazing what the children can do when they put their mind to it," commented teacher Mrs. Merrienne Cipkowski.

He is also a graduate of the Kennedy-Sinclair New Business and Pension and Profit Sharing Schools.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

"Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country." Let's paraphrase President Kennedy's thought... Let's take out the word 'country' and replace it with the word 'people'.... "What can I do for people, instead of people doing something for me?"... By and large, we are a generous people. Whenever catastrophe strikes, when floods, famine or destruction occur, we unhesitatingly step forward and give substantial help. However, this sort of help is given mostly when publicized disaster occurs. If more of us took a close look at the unpublicized tragedy in most of the world, it would give us a jolt.

Many people believe in the legend that God helps him who helps himself. This is true - in cases. In other cases it is not true. What person, for example, can honestly say that 88 percent of our people own TV sets [just because God helped us to help ourselves? There are other reasons. We intend to explore the reasons in later thoughts. Watch for them....
